Adding onto this:

- don't put "Come and Take It" or other lettering on your car if you're transporting unregistered NFA items
- don't speed
- be a good and kind neighbor, don't outwardly act like an incel to those who might report you
- don't give people reason to suspect you

Replying to @oo7jhawk

People forget about the in-person opsec

It's not just staying safe on the internet, it's holding up the persona to your neighbors, IRL frens, and family that you're not committing any BIG BOY ...

I would also suggest leaving cell phones and other such devices somewhere else. If your car has onstar etc that can be used to track you as well.

If you are doing serious felony gun shiz paranoia is prudence.

This is what makes me timid about getting into printing. Yea the Gatalog has the files but no one talks about how you safely download and store files to print. Can you plug USB's into printers to just download them onto there or what's the best way to maintain privacy?
